Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Memorial of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Founding of Christ Church, Philadelphia 1695-1895 Christ Church, Philadelphia, having its potential origin in the requirement of the charter of Pennsylvania granted by King Charles II to William Penn which provided for services of the Church of England, dates its actual beginning from 1695. On November 15th of that year, the ground was purchased on which stands the present church edifice. The purchase was made by Joshua Carpenter, who, in a deed dated July 20th following, acknowledged and declared that his name was used in the deeds of purchase by the special nomination and appointment of the community of the said church, and for their use and benefit, and that part of the lot of land was intended for a cemetery or churchyard, and that the church and the premises were to be perpetually appropriated and used for the public worship of God, and for the better instruction of the people inhabiting and to inhabit in Philadelphia, in the one Christian religion as it is professed in...
