Excerpt: . . . bit of a hint in Daniel about Gabriel, who, being caused to fly swiftly, touched him about the time of the evening oblation. But do you not make a very material kind of heaven out of such suppositions It depends upon what you mean by material. The term does not, to my thinking, imply degradation, except so far as it is associated with sin. Dr. Chalmers has the right of it when he talks about spiritual materialism. He says in his sermon on the New Heavens and Earth, --which, by the way, you should read, and from which I wish a few more of our preachers would learn something, --that we forget that on the birth of materialism, when it stood out in the freshness of those glories which the great Architect of Nature had impressed upon it, that then the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy. I do not believe in a gross heaven, but I believe in a reasonable one. 4. th. We have been devoting ourselves to feminine vanities all day out in the orchard. Aunt Winifred has been making her summer bonnet, and I some linen collars. I saw, though she said nothing, that she thought the crepe a little gloomy, and I am going to wear these in the mornings to please her. She has an accumulation of work on hand, and in the afternoon I offered to tuck a little dress...
